Indulge Your Senses.... at the 10th Annual Good Gardening Symposium

The topics of this year's Symposium will enhance your knowledge so you may enjoy your garden with all your senses.

One of the joys of gardening is watching caterpillars grow into beautiful butterflies. Ruth Burch, past President of the Butterfly Society of Virginia will teach us "How to Identify Butterflies before They Have Wings".

Learn to make the most of your garden space with "Intensive Gardening". The purpose of an intensively grown garden is to harvest the most produce possible from a given space. Bill Swanson, Master Gardener Powhatan will present techniques to create an ideal plant environment, giving better yields with less labor.

Expand your knowledge of culinary and fragrance herbs. Kathy Chain, owner of The Herbs of Happy Hill, will present "Herbs, a hobby that leads you around by the nose".

In "From Garden to Table", Chef Neil Stevens will discuss and demonstrate a variety of new ways to prepare your vegetable harvest.
